Civil Action

No. _____

JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

COMPLAINT FOR DECLARATORY JUDGMENT OF INVALIDITY AND NON-INFRINGEMENT

Plaintiff Xodus Medical Inc. (hereafter, "Xodus"), by and through its undersigned counsel, hereby alleges the following for its Complaint against Defendant Dupaco, Inc. (hereafter, "Dupaco"):

NATURE OF THE ACTION

1. This is an action for declaratory judgment of invalidity and non-infringement of a United States patent pursuant to the Declaratory Judgment Act, 28 U.S.C. §§2201-2202, the United States Patent Law, 35 U.S.C. § 1 et seq., the Copyright Act, 17 U.S.C. §§ 101 et seq., the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. §§ 1051 et seq., and federal and state common law, and for such other relief as the Court deems just and proper. Xodus seeks a declaration that U.S. Patent No. 6,490,737 (hereinafter, "the '737 Patent") is invalid and not infringed by the ProneSafe™ device sold by Xodus. Xodus also seeks a declaration that has not infringed any trademark, trade dress, or copyright owned by Dupaco, or that any trademark, trade dress or copyright owned by Dupaco relating to its PRONEVIEW is invalid.

PARTIES

2. Xodus is a Pennsylvania corporation having its principal place of business at 702 Prominence Drive, New Kensington, Pennsylvania 15068.

3. Xodus offers for sale the PRONESAFE™ Prone Head Rest (hereafter, “the ProneSafe™ device”), a medical device that is configured to protect the face of a patient during surgical procedures that involve the prone position.

4. Upon information and belief, Dupaco is a Delaware corporation with a principal place of business at 4144 Avenida De La Plata, Oceanside, CA 92056.

5. The ‘737 Patent, issued on December 10, 2002, and upon information and belief, was assigned to Dupaco on October 1, 2012. See Exhibit A.

6. Upon information and belief, Dupaco is the current owner of the ‘737 Patent.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

7. This is an action for declaratory judgment under the patent laws of the United States, 35 U.S.C. §§ 1 et seq., the Copyright Act, 17 U.S.C. §§ 101 et seq., the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. §§ 1051 et seq., federal and state unfair competition law, and the Declaratory Judgment Act, 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201-2202. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this action pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1121 and 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1332, 1338, 1367, and 2201-02, based on the existence of an actual controversy between Xodus, on the one hand, and Dupaco, on the other hand, for claims under the Patent Laws, the Copyright Act, the Lanham Act, and at common law.

8. Dupaco has accused Xodus of infringing claims of the '737 Patent for selling the ProneSafe™ device.

9. Dupaco also has accused Xodus of infringing unspecified trademark and trade dress rights and other intellectual property purportedly owned by Dupaco with respect to Xodus's sale of the ProneSafe™ device.

10. The existence of this controversy is demonstrated by, for example, the letter of October 19, 2016, accusing Xodus's ProneSafe™ device of being covered by at least claims 2, 24, and 25 of the '737 Patent. In addition, after receipt of the letter of October 19, 2016, counsel for Xodus and Dupaco engaged in telephone communications wherein Dupaco asserted that the ProneSafe™ device infringed other, unspecified claims of the '737 Patent as well. During telephone communications between counsel, Dupaco also raised unspecified claims of trademark and trade dress infringement. Upon information and belief, Dupaco further is contemplating a claim of copyright infringement and common law unfair competition claims. As recently as April 20, 2017, counsel for Xodus received a voicemail message from counsel for Dupaco, wherein the initiation of a lawsuit was threatened.

11. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Dupaco by reasons of the extensive business conducted in this State, and specifically within this Judicial District. On information and belief, Dupaco is in the business of manufacturing medical devices, and selling them nation-wide, including within this Judicial District.

12. In addition, this Court has personal jurisdiction over Dupaco because Dupaco has threatened Xodus with a suit alleging patent infringement. Xodus has its principal place of business in New Kensington, Pennsylvania. Thus, Xodus is sustaining damages as a result of Dupaco's actionable conduct within this Judicial District.

13. By purposely targeting residents of this District with its unsupported patent, trademark, and trade dress enforcement activities, Dupaco has an expectation to derive substantial income from their activities in this District.

14. Dupaco's claims for patent infringement, trade mark infringement, trade dress infringement, copyright infringement, and unfair competition made against Xodus are baseless and are purposely intended to harass and inflict harm on Xodus. Dupaco's actions have caused, and will cause, harm in this Judicial District by requiring Xodus, a resident of this Judicial District, to needlessly spend resources to defend against or settle Dupaco's meritless claims. Exercising personal jurisdiction over Dupaco is fair and reasonable because this District has an interest in adjudicating this dispute.

15. Venue is proper in this District in that this Court has personal jurisdiction over Dupaco, and a substantial part of the events giving rise to the claims at issue occurred in this District in that Dupaco has threatened Xodus, a resident of this Judicial District, with a suit alleging patent infringement, trade mark infringement, trade dress infringement, copyright infringement, and unfair competition. Additionally, venue is proper in this District because a substantial part of the events giving rise to Xodus's claims occurred in this District.
